Ryder Marsh Open Course Information

Leading Safety Culture experts Ryder Marsh have developed a suite of 3 Open Course modules to meet the needs of Safety Professionals who want their organisation to achieve a World Class Safety Culture. Building on your existing Safety Management System and our global experience of implementing Behavioural Based Safety over the last 25 years, and including the wider concepts of Safety Leadership and Cultural Safety™, over the course of three days we can give you the foundations to take your organisation beyond compliance to the next level of excellence.

This set of three one-day modular courses takes a multi-disciplinary approach to introduce delegates to Safety Culture development, Safety Leadership skills and best practice in implementing a Behavioural Based Safety Process. Each module is explored in a one day session that can be undertaken individually* or together on successive days.

The sessions build to provide delegates with a complete picture of how to influence and enhance both Safety Culture and Leadership skills. With that context established, the final module guides delegates how design and implement a Behavioural Based Safety Process in a way most likely to improve organisational Safety Culture. The benefit of that and overall goal of the course is a reduction in incident rates that can only be achieved by applying a well-rounded understanding of the behavioural root causes of incidents and how to address them effectively in the wider context of the environment in which they occur.

The courses use a variety of media and techniques to make the learning experience accessible, memorable and enjoyable and are delivered by subject matter experts with field experience of real implementations.

Details of the module contents can be found on separate sheets.

Should you wish to have any courses on custom dates or closed to your organisations please contact us and we will be happy to discuss how we can meet your requirements.

* Due to the nature of the skills required to implement a Cultural Safety™ Process successfully and references to material in the other modules, Module 3 – Implementing Behavioural Based Safety can only be undertaken upon successful completion of Modules 1 and 2.
